75% of survivors surveyed in 2018 reported coming into contact with hotels while being trafficked, and 94% said they never received assistance, concern, or identification from hotel staff.

There are some in the hotel industry who are blatantly involved in sex trafficking, who profit from turning a blind eye to the victimization happening in their hotel.

But there are so many more who are unknowingly contributing to the success of the trafficker's business because employees don't know what to look for or what to do if they have suspicions.

Rescuing Hope provides training for those in the hotel industry so that they can see what is IN PLAIN SIGHT and do something about it.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS LEARN:

- What sex trafficking is and how it operates
- How to recognize the indicators of a potential sex trafficking victim
- How to recognize the indicators of potential sex trafficking activity
- What management can do to fight sex trafficking
- How to access resources for help

"The hotel industry is ground zero. Rescuing Hope shared the common indicators to look for, the terms used and the statistics, in a powerful message and encouraged us to take action."
